In the Middle Ages a fool or a Tor (german: töricht = foolish) was the person, who entertained the royal household and was dressed mostly strange but funny. The term "fool" also refers to persons who are very immature, stupid, clumsy, biased, prejudiced, ignorant. I guess "ignorant" was inserted later. The fool is normally not ignorant and if the king has a black heart it would be even dangerous to tell him what many others think directly in his face.

Kings often do not want to look in the mirror because they know normally that they are fat, hairy and ignorant. The fool tries to show the king his own stupidity without being killed (jester's licence) by the king (= Satan)

As a Christian and psychology student, she saw that the Nazis are killing Jews, patients in mental institutions, innocents. She began to print flyers with her brother, distributed them at her university to stop Hitler. Unfortunately she and her brother was sentenced to death by a Nazi judge and murdered by the Nazis

May white roses materialize on her tomb

Opinion: Germany be proud on people like Sophie Scholl who had that much courage to give up

IT supporter Scapegoat

Computers are highly complex, nobody understands really what a CPU does in detail. Also Operating systems are complex, if you would take an average Operating System you would have at least 5GB, 1GB would be 500'000 A4 Pages that would weigh 2500kg, so if you would multiply that with 5 one would easily find out that nobody could handle that. Therefore the companies invented "The IT Supporter", in the early days they got a lot of money, today not anymore. So if something goes wrong or even someone dies because of the companies computernetwork the 20 years old IT-Guy will be the Scapegoat and even sentenced. If you add the complete content that is handled with a computer it are more Exabytes than Gigabytes. So definitely nobody can handle that. But of course the 20 years old IT-Guy will be held responsible, even if he is the one with the smallest salary like I had in 1999 at ABB Flexible Automation, ZH Altstetten. And if you would tell what happens at such soft of companies they maybe even kill me. CIA/NSA would disable malware if the supporter analyzes the problem to keep the malware secret. Maybe even fast interacting BOT that eg interact with sexual integrity of equal aged women since CIA would "not" attack women.

If you know Star Trek then you know what this archetype thinks like. Focussing only on profit, ignoring the pain of the people they take the money from. Even risking lives for profit.
