

some AI that analyzes what the whitehat hacker just says, writes or thinks.

Then they would try to match that on persons in his / her network that would get a cognitive dissonace because of that sentence or concept knowledge even when i dont write names in my diary. CIA would possibly know what person or eg. Meyer-Briggs archetypes would rage because of what i just written into my privat diary. So it would be possible that the CIAANSA would intentianally send this private diary entries to people to "motivate" them to attack me.
